Come grow old along with me . . .
the best is yet to be.

Will I remember such things as sharing laughter and problems with a friend? Will I remember all of the fun we had during the year? Was I just a bystander or did I take part? What will I remember in years to come?

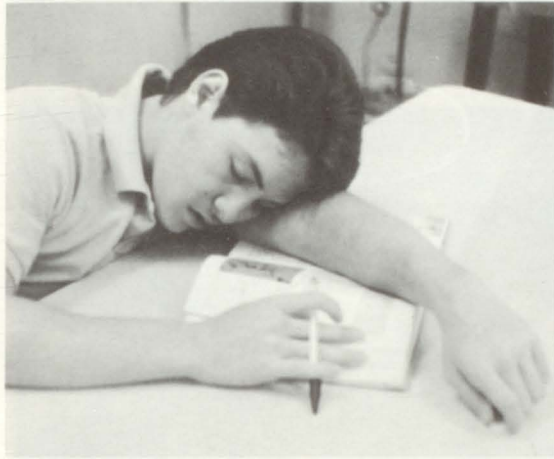

Please don't let this feeling end, it's everything I am, It's everything I want to be.

Too soon today is tomorrow too soon
a yesterday

Celebrate . . .

for life is a celebration of different colors and hues.

Challenge — laughter, wonder —
reflections of today,
the promise of tomorrow.

We are the future looking out on the past, we are the present making old things last, we are tomorrow thinking of yesterday, we are today doing things "our way!"

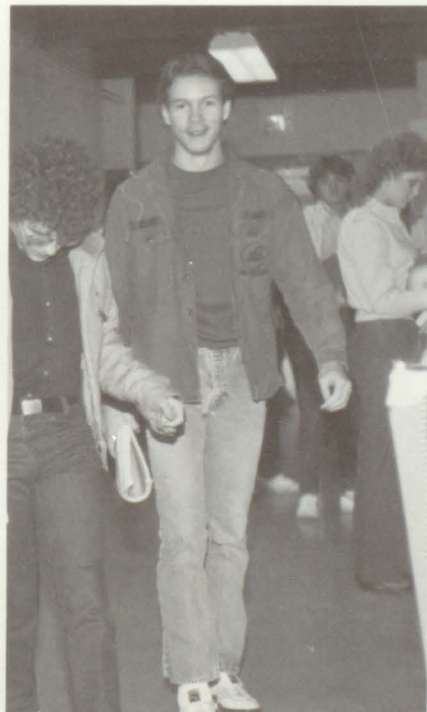

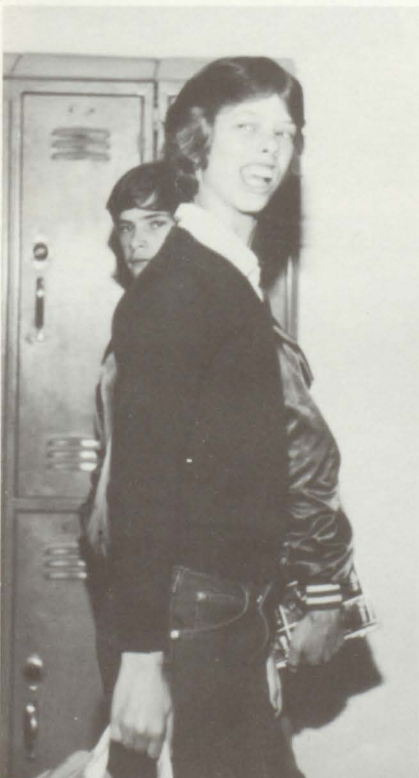

Let a smile be more than . . .
a meteor marking the midnight sky with an instant glowing streak, then disappearing to leave the heavens empty.

Kristi Ramsey

“Man cannot discover new oceans unless he has courage to lose sight of the shore.”

André Gide

One of the greatest pleasures in the world is a friendship.

Within the bright promise are moments too brief to be held by the eye . . .

Captured in thought and fragmented by time.

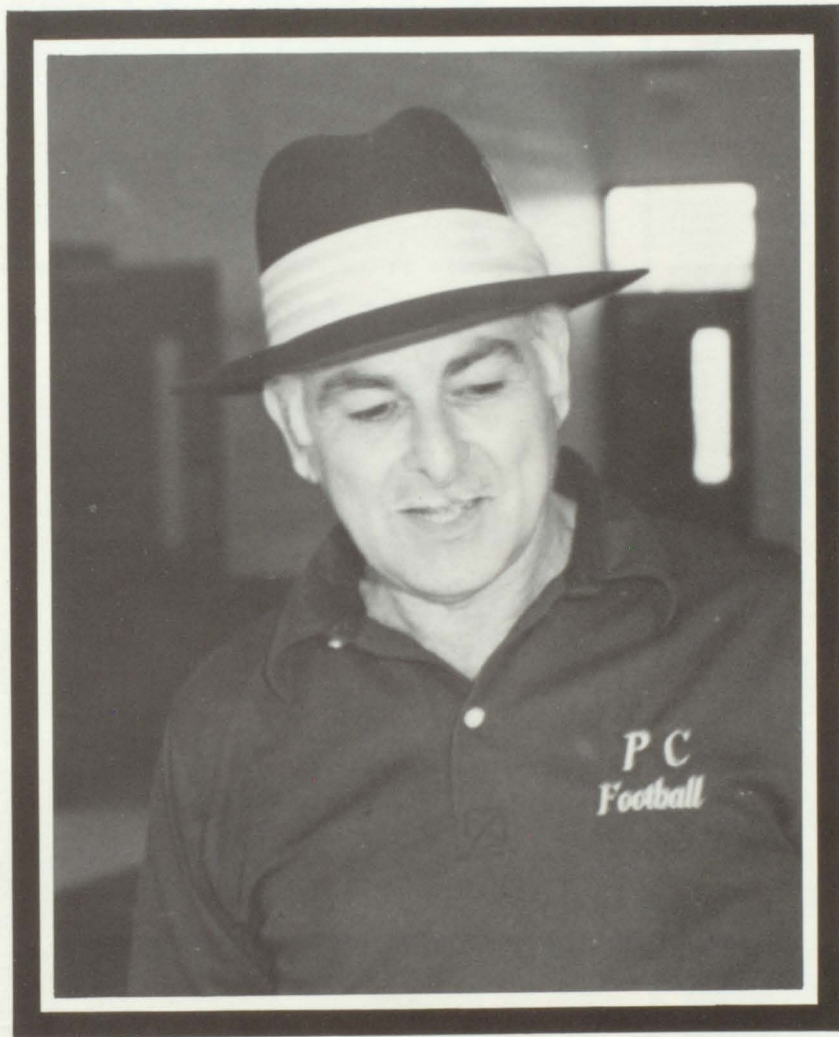

The simple happenings of today — will be great memories tomorrow — and the fact that we can't do it again — might bring sorrow — yet the simple fact that we've lived life once — will let us think it a success — and the years to come — will prove to us — this year has been better than the rest!

We on the 1984 Pelmel staff hope that as you reflect on the events of this past year you will find that this year was a very happy memorable year.

I consider art and music to be inseparable, and classical guitar playing as an extension of my life-long interest in both. The wide range of sound and mood available to the experience guitarist is comparable to the multiplicity of colors, shapes, etc. used by the painter.

I enjoy drawing for a variety of reasons — all of which are of varying degrees of importance to me. The completion of a drawing gives to me a sense of accomplishment. A sense that something now exists that did not previously exist. Also, the time given over to drawing is a time to think, argue with myself, and to make decisions.

In Loving Memory of Stanley Parker 1965-1983

Mr. Stanley Parker was born to the union of Mr. and Mrs. Levester Parker in 1965. He passed to his reward on Saturday, October 29, 1983 at the Regional Medical Center in Anniston, Alabama.

When I must leave you for a little while,
Please do not grieve and shed tears
And hug your sorrows to you through the years.
But start out bravely with a gallant smile;
And for my sake and in my name,
Live on and do all things the same.

This was taken from the Obsequies for Mr. Stanley Parker program from the Parker Memorial Baptist Church.

Hard Work and

The week of September 26 was the beginning of Homecoming week at the Pell City High School. To continue the tradition, each day of the week was set aside as a special dress up day. The week ended on Friday with the football game which the Panthers won 6-0.

High Spirits

Homecoming week brings a lot of excitement, and class float competition is among the most important festivities. Friday morning each class begins preparing a float according to a specific theme chosen by the faculty. The seniors had the winning float with the theme "Shovin' on With Panther Pride." The float was a perfect picture of a construction site.

The second place ribbon was captured by the Junior class. The Juniors chose the theme "Flying High With Panther Pride." The float was a replica of the Red Baron, with the pink Panther acting as the pilot.

Third place went to the Sophomore Class, with the central theme "Panther Pride." A patriotic approach using the American flag, the Alabama flag, and our very own panther paw emblem.

The Marching Band of Gold

This year's PCHS marching band members endured the sweltering heat of evening and all day practices in July and August, in order to learn and perfect a show for the up-coming marching contests and football season. All of the hard work proved to be worthwhile when the band attained superior ratings at all the festivals they attended, and won best in class at Thompson and best over-all band at Lincoln. They were also invited to perform at the Winston 500 and the Birmingham Stallions opening ballgame.

Breaking That Twelve

The rippling streams of time have carried this year away, but they left behind the memories of cherished yesterdays. We'll never forget our Senior year for as long as we shall live. We've learned to laugh, we've learned to cry, but most important we've learned to give. A part of us will remain here as the years go passing by, "For there's no place we'd rather be than Pell City High."

We have shared the joys and sorrows that life brings and now we must say good-bye.

Soph. Linebacker

The season record of the Panther football team this year does not reflect all of the blood, sweat, and tears the players sacrificed for the team. Winning is not everything and the young men who played this season really benefitted from the challenge of being part of the team. They learned how to work together as a group toward a common goal.

They learned how to win with humility and lose with grace. This season was a time of adjustment for all the players and coaches. For many players it was a new experience to play for the varsity team, and everyone adjusted well. Already the team looks forward to the new season and hopes the experience the team gained this year will help them in the future.

Senior Panthers Capture

The most valuable lineman award was captured by Joey Hobson. Joey is a senior, plans to attend Auburn University, and major in marketing. His advice to future football players is, "To give 110 % at all times on and off the field." Joey enjoyed football because of the leadership and self-discipline that is required.

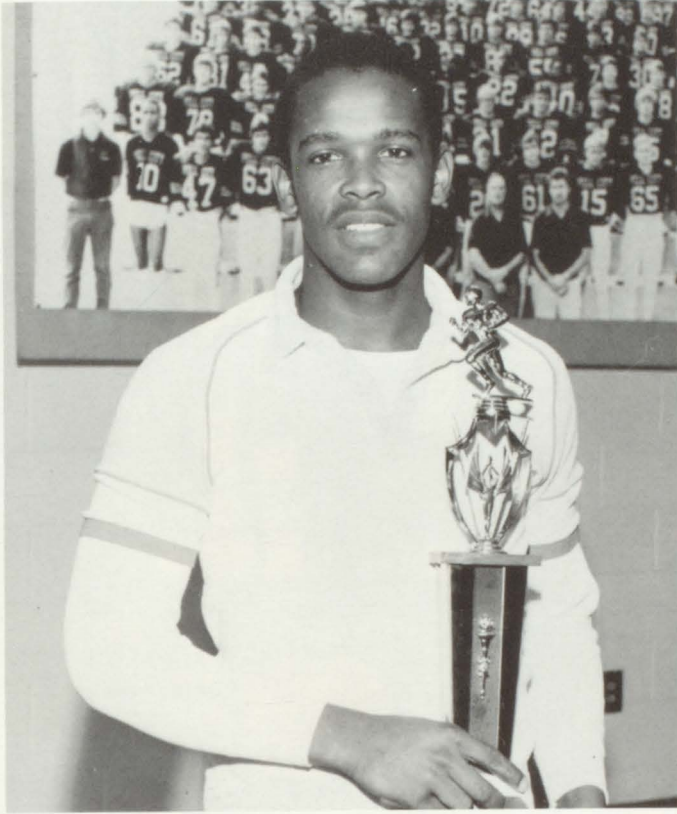

Lee Dickey was the recipient of the Gerald Gossett Sportsmanship Award. Lee enjoyed football because of the competition, and the challenge involved. His advice to future players is, "To set goals and discipline yourself to reach them." After school Lee plans to attend the University of Alabama. Lee was the quarterback for the Panthers.

Lucky Shepard was the recipient of the Permanent Team Captain Award. Lucky's football philosophy was to work hard and strive for your goals. After high school Lucky plans to attend college and become a Computer Programmer.

Football Honors

The recipient of the Most Valuable Defensive Player Award was Donald Martin. Learning the importance of team effort was very important to Donald, and also the concern of the coaching staff was a great asset to the 1983-84 Panther team. His advice to younger players is, "to always believe you are as good as the rest." After school Donald plans to attend college and play football.

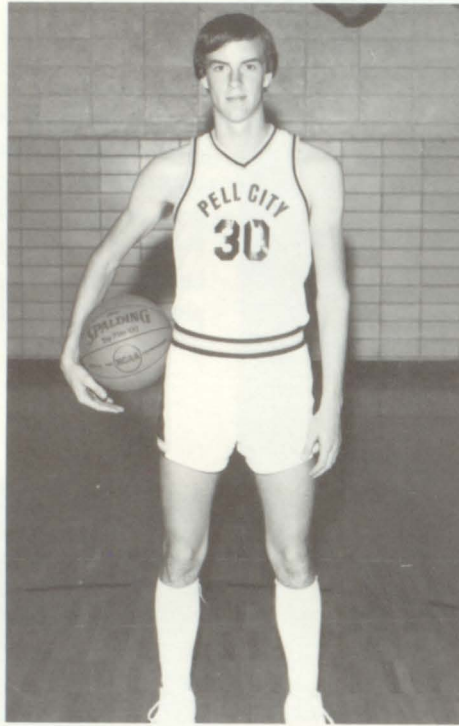

Roger Whisenant was the 1983-84 recipient of the Edmond Blair Scholastic Award. This award is given to the football player who has attained the highest scholastic average during the season. Roger is a senior, a Beta Club member, and a Key Club member. After graduation Roger plans to attend Auburn University.

Basketball is a game requiring a lot of dedication and hard work. The Panthers exhibited these qualities as well as many more in their 1983-84 season. The Panthers have already started planning for a successful season next year.
